VANDYKE™
SOFTWARE

SecureCRT®

SecureCRT and SecureFX support saving passwords and other sensitive data, which will be encrypted within the session configuration files. To improve the security of this feature, SecureCRT and SecureFX allow you to specify a configuration passphrase.

Encrypt sensitive data (saved passwords, logon actions, etc):

With a configuration passphrase
(Recommended for increased security)
This passphrase must be entered when SecureCRT or SecureFX starts.

Passphrase:

Confirm:

Without a configuration passphrase
(Recommended for convenience)
You will not be prompted for a configuration passphrase when SecureCRT or SecureFX starts. Choose this option if you do not save passwords, if you schedule SecureCRT for automation, if you schedule tasks in SecureFX, or if you need to run the command-line client SFXCL in unattended mode.
